MEMORABILIA 1966

Volume Number Fifty-Three

The Senior Class Book of

CLINTON HIGH SCHOOL

Clinton, Massachusetts

Dedication

We, the Class of 1966, dedicate our yearbook, "Memorabilia," to our advisor, Mr. William J. Walsh. It is our wish to recognize him for his admirable and self-sacrificing leadership. Words are unable to express our gratitude to him for the effort on his part to help us help ourselves. His guidance taught us to stand on our own two feet and manage our own affairs. He devoted his time and ability to us, and for that we thank him sincerely. This book is as much his as it is ours, for it is his record of a job well done.

In this yearbook we will see, read, and most of all remember our high school days through its pictures and words. From 1962 to 1966 we walked the corridors of CHS and were somehow affected by our own and the world's fads, facts, and fancies that are recorded in the following pages.

As freshmen we were scared, yet, we had a sense of pride to know that we would be the first class to complete four full years in our newly built school. We elected our officers: Ronald Notaro, president; Constance Halloran, vice-president; Frances Oberg, secretary; George Giansanti, treasurer.

As they presided over us, President John Fitzgerald Kennedy lived in the White House and was confronted with the racial problems, the disaster of the nuclear submarine "Thresher," and especially with the Cuban Crisis. Another figure-head of that was Pope John XXIII who worked for peace during his reign and convened the twenty-first Ecumenical Council. He died June 3, 1963, not living long enough to see the tremendous fruits of his labor. His dreams were nevertheless carried out under the direction of Pope Paul VI.

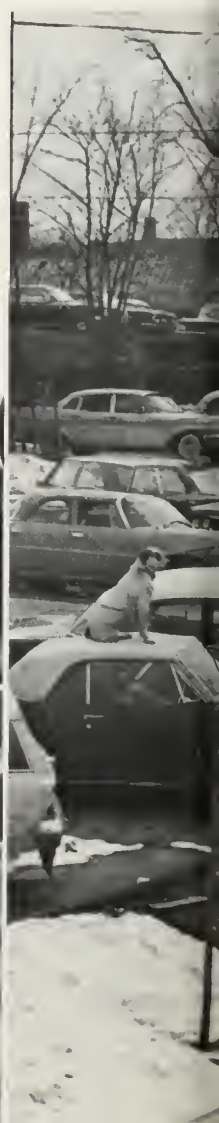
As sophomores we listened to the new sounds of the Beatles, were surprised at the upset of the Yankees by the Dodgers, behind the pitching of Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale, in the World Series, were honored by the visit of Leonardo da Vinci's Mona Lisa at the New York World's Fair, and were deeply saddened by the sudden assassination of our beloved, young President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. November 22, 1963, will be a day in which we will sadly remember him in our minds and prayers.

Time marched on and to the White House came Vice President Johnson, and to our sophomore class came our new officers: David Graves, president; Linda Shipley, vice-president; Terry Hohl, secretary; Raymond Marhefka, treasurer.

Hurdling over the mid-years like the U.S. Olympic team did in the XVIII Olympiad in Tokyo (96 gold medals to Russia's 90) we shone brightly like the Olympic champions (Don Schollander, swimming; Bob Hayes, track; Edith McGuire, track) in our winning hillbilly play.

Our Junior year! Everything seemed to happen all at once and we found ourselves as upper classmen with David Graves, president; Arlene Giansante, vice-president; Terry Hohl, secretary; Peter Biskadorous, treasurer, as our officers. We confronted problems like our class rings, grades, our status in sporting events, and those awful college boards.

On the national scene President Johnson was faced with an election which he and Hubert H. Humphrey were triumphant over Barry Goldwater and William Miller. Racial demonstrations and protest marches swept across the country, but in a less welcomed style as compared to Carol Channing's performance in "Hello Dolly!".



The screen too was taken by the dynamic, dramatic, and dazzling performances of Sidney Poitier in "Lilies of the Field," Patricia Neal in the "Hud," and Albert Finney and Susannah York in "Tom Jones."

We found in records and dances like the frug, monkey, and hully gully another means of entertainment. We found time to sit back and enjoy the folk music of Peter, Paul and Mary, the dry realistic humor of Bob Cosby in the television program "I Spy," and in books like "The Lord of the Flys" by William Golding, "Yes I Can" by the versatile entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. and "Look Homeward Angel" by Thomas Wolfe.

Our Senior year was marked with scientific progress, war, assistance to the old and poor, eye-catching fashions, and Senior Memories.

The United States had us looking up again with the spectacular feats of our spacemen, like the celebrated walk in space taken by Ed White.

Soon we had to come down to earth because the Viet Nam situation became an urgent and pressured issue. We sent more men and equipment, and as a result met more conflicts at home over the draft and patriotic feelings as expressed in the song "The Ballad of the Green Berets" by Sergeant Barry Sadler and the poems of the year.

President Lyndon B. Johnson declared his "War on Poverty" and followed up this announcement with his Appalachia and Medicare programs. With President Kennedy's Peace Corps and the newly formed Job Corps people Young and old, were able to find new employment and adventure in their life.

Entering school in September girls had many "extras" to add to their wardrobe, for, the "total look" called for textured, all-patterns nylons, sling-shoulder bags, pierced earrings, pendant watches, "Hullabaloo Boots," and multi-colored shells.

Throughout our whole Senior year girls and boys alike found new responsibilities and obligations in their school work, social life, and part-time employment. Under the guidance of our advisor William J. Walsh and the aid of our officers David Graves, president; Linda Shipley, vice-president; Livia Shipley, secretary; Peter Biskaduros, treasurer, we finally made it.

As Seniors our Thanksgiving Show, Christmas Assembly, and Senior Hop meant a great deal more. We were equally proud of our football, basketball, baseball and track teams. We truly realized the importance of our high school education and the need of a higher education.

There are many more things that we shall remember, some maybe great events and some may seem to be of little significance to many people, who in the future may open this book and look through it. These people may see and read these pictures and words, but we will never quite grasp the real meanings or captivate the true picture.

We will remember the salute to the flag, led by the Boy's State Delegates before each assembly and the "Star Spangled Banner" played by the CHS band before those exciting and often damp football games, as expressions of patriotism and pride in our country, our school, and ourselves.

We will laugh, once again, as we remember the funny little things: Miss Rose running after her dog, students going up the down staircases, a twirler dropping her baton on the football field, the jokes that our teachers tried to crack (most of them weren't very funny), and a Senior boy trying too hard to narrate the latest episode of "Batman."

We may even whistle a tune that was sung by students and faculty (remember how Mr. Martin Gibbons spiced every show with his songs and how Mr. O'Rourke, Mr. Bachant, Mr. Lochart, Mr. Fadgen, and Mr. Walsh as the Five Snowmen triggered the assembly into a Mitch Miller sing along) on special occasions which were taken from musicals like My Fair Lady, Mary Poppins and The Sound of Music, and from record artists like Joan Baez, Rolling Stones, Beach Boys, Wayne Newton, and Robert Goulet.

We truly realized the importance of our high school education and the need of a higher education.

As we follow in step to the music of the grand march we are deeply moved by the memories of CHS and at the same time eager "To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

To the Seniors:

May the road rise to greet you.
May the sun be always at your feet.
May God hold you in the hollow of His hand.

It was a dream of perfect bliss.
Too beautiful to last.

Junior Prom

Once

Upon

Dream

One of the most anticipated events of our high school career took place on May 21, 1965. Our Junior Prom was one of the most successful in many years. Through much hard work by all, the gym was transformed into a colorful setting of pastel flowers, garden enclosures, patios, angels and stars, depicting the theme "Once Upon a Dream." Co-chairmen for the event were Livia Shipley, Kathy M. O'Malley, Ken Innamorati, and Ray Marhefka.

After dancing to the music of the Commodores the Grand March was held under the capable direction of Mr. Robert Murphy.

Following the Grand March, Dave Graves, class president, crowned the queen Corrinne Schultze, '66. The other members of her court were Colleen Parslow, '66, Margaret Forhan, '66, Mary Bea McGown, '66, Barbara McMurray, '65, and Jane Wrzesinski, '67.

As the final strains of music drifted from the gym everyone realized that our Junior Prom had been a fitting close to our wonderful, prosperous Junior year.

Winter Fantasy

The class of '66 proudly presented its Senior Hop, "Winter Fantasy" on February 12, 1966. The school cafeteria, dismally blanketed in snow outside, was gaily decorated in a color scheme of blue and white inside. While a scene of little children enjoying the winter adorned the huge curtain, jolly snowmen stood stately at attention in front of the queen and her court.

Our Grand March, led by Mr. William J. Walsh, was climaxed by the crowning of Miss Pamela Steele as our queen.

As our last formal came to a close, not even the snowy weather could spoil the joyous memories of a wonderful evening.

Clinton 8 St. Peter's 14

Clinton High School Gaels failed to put a plus in the win column against St. Peters High of Worcester in their 1965 season opener.

St. Peters scored in each of the first two periods and held a 14 to 0 lead at halftime, but the second half belonged to the Gaels.

Clinton missed a score in the third period by inches when Ken Innamorati blocked a Scavone punt, giving the Gaels the ball on the six yard line.

Early in the last stanza, the Gael's Dave Fadgen raced 16 yards for their lone score. Juan Nieves hit Ken Innamorati with a pass for the two points.

Clinton 8 Trade 6

Clinton High defeated Worcester Trade 8-6 before 2,500 fans for its first win in fourteen games.

The Gael's Gerry McAuliffe took the opening kickoff on a reverse and sped 76 yards for the T.D. Carlos Nieves skirted the right end for the two point winning margin.

Later the mechanic's Jim Roberts broke loose and raced 23 yards to score. Clinton's Ken Innamorati saved the winning edge by downing Roberts short of the goal in the try on extra points.

Clinton 16 Hudson 6

The Galloping Gaels stunned Hudson High with a pair of touchdowns in the opening two minutes of play to win their second game in a row.

Left halfback Angel Neives, supposedly shelved with a bad bruise, took the opening kickoff and sped 80 yards into pay dirt to overwhelm the crowd of 3,000 fans. He finished off by carrying the ball in for the extra points.

Four plays later Ken Innamorati broke through the Hudson line and blocked his second punt in three games; and Ron Notaro recovered the ball in the end zone for the second score. Gerry McAuliffe rushed for the extra points to wrap the game up.

Clinton 0 Notre Dame 18

The invading Notre Dame team of Fitchburg further stamped itself as one of the area's top schoolboy football machines by defeating the best football team Clinton High has had in ten years. The inability to score after picking up a first down on the Notre Dame one yard line unquestionably took much of the starch out of Clinton which came onto the field with fire in their eyes. Clinton wasn't too sharp in this one but are already preparing for Hudson Catholic.

Clinton 12 Bartlett 14

These two teams, both having an identical season, clashed in a mist before 2,500 fans at Fuller Field. Two single point conversions by Bartlett's Paul Dready inevitably proved to be the victory margin.

Angel Nieves chalked up two touchdowns, but the Gael's couldn't make good on either conversion.

Clinton, now with an even season, is preparing for Marlboro.

Clinton 14 Hudson C. 12

Clinton High retaliated with a victory against Hudson Catholic after the licking it took from Notre Dame the week before.

Clinton's Ron Notaro saved the game with his extra points which came after Angel Nieves carried the second kickoff of the game seventy five yards to tie the game six to six. Angel Nieves, putting on a spectacular performance, continued to pick up good yardage on every carry. Carlos Nieves carried the ball in from the eight and Clinton was ahead to stay.

Clinton 20

Bishop Guertin 0

The Galloping Gaels from Clinton went on a rampage to completely outclass Bishop Guertin of New Hampshire.

Angel Nieves carried the opening kickoff to the Bishop Guertin 32 yard line. Three plays later Ronnie Notaro carried the ball in from the 25. After marching half the length of the field, Angel Nieves bolted in from 57 yards out.

Carlos Nieves finished up the scoring with 10 yard run for the six points, and his brother Juan skirted the end for the final two.

Clinton 0 Marlboro 6

Clinton High played its greatest ball game in quite a few years and came out on the bottom of a 6 to 0 score.

Clinton took the opening kickoff, marched for 6 consecutive first downs to the Marlboro 10 yard line, and then losing the ball on downs quickly gained it back when Dave Freel recovered a fumble. Marlboro held for three plays, but Angel Nieves slipped through for the score only to be nullified by a penalty.

A see-saw battle all the way through the game was played with Marlboro holding on to their 6 point lead.

Basketball 1965-66

The Clinton High School basketball team finished its first season under the new coaching reign of William Walsh with 9 wins and 11 losses. The season was very successful and ended with a tourney play.

Clinton played a different type of basketball this year than in the past. Due to a lack in height they utilized the fast break excessively. Captain John Burgwinkle and Ken Innamorati started the forward posts, and Dave Fadgen, George Gonzales and Johnny Morin started at the guard positions to make the quintet. Help was gained throughout the season from reserves Ray Marhefka, Bill Robinson, Jim Carey, Rich McIntyre, Angel Nieves, and Bobby Krantz.

Judy Sesia leaves still running to beat the tardy bell.
Evelyn Seuss leaves still proving "Silence is Golden."
Dotty Seymour leaves to solve the social problems of the world.
Marty Shaughnessy leaves as a completely different person.
James Sheridan leaves without a care in the world.
Linda and Livia Shipley leave us still puzzled about "Who's Who."
Connie Silbestri leaves paving the way for the rest of the Silvestris.
Maureen Smith leaves leading the fashion parade.
Jeffrey Sonia leaves as quietly as a mouse.
Ronnie Starr leaves as inconspicuously as he entered.
Stanley Starr leaves . . . Alone (?)
Pam Steel leaves her position as majorette to Mary Beth Burwinkle.
Susan Taratuta leaves her quiet ways and pleasing manner.
Bill Thompson leaves still teasing the girls.
Ed Trautner leaves . . . Oh, so quietly!
Carol Turnas leaves her subtle sense of humor.
Maria Valeri leaves with her frivolous sense of humor.
Maria Vargas leaves to remodel the White House.
Ray Vargas leaves just as we were getting acquainted with him.
Pat Vitone leaves sadly but with fond memories of C. H. S.
Kurt Wallat leaves to start his own speed shop.
David Walsh leaves the Sophomore girls minus a ride.
John Wetherall leaves to become a teacher.
Todd Whitney leaves as quickly as he came.
Ray Wiedi leaves to make history?
Richard Wissenback leaves his physics book to the waste paper drive.
Doreen Wood leaves us with the knowledge that good things come in small packages.
Franny Zelent leaves last but not least.

To the Freshmen we leave a path of glory and fame that will, indeed, take three years to match.

To the Sophomores, at the mid point, we leave fortitude and courage to prevail through the next two years.

To the Juniors we leave good will and moral support to all their future endeavors which might equal them to the illustrious Seniors of 1966.

Signed,
Nancy Anderson

Within these pages history dwells.
Each page, a life, its story tells

Of four great years for each of us
To be remembered for ever. And thus

This book records the high school days
Of you and me in many ways.

Study hall, and gym, and English class
—We often wondered, would we pass?

We did, and now those wonderful years are done.
The work, we know, has just begun.

We're called the Alumni, we served our term,
But most of us would start again.

Our football team was the best in years;
The Cheerleaders and Band, they had no peers.

Four years ago we started, and now we end
—If only we could start again.

Once upon a time at Random College, there was an aggravexed yearbook staff. They had huffed, and they had puffed. They had hustled, and they had bustled. They had waited for delivery with anticimpatience. When the book arrived, they were conflummoxed!

A bromide or a bore just wouldn't wash any more with the discriminating student body at Random. So Wm. J. Keller Inc., having a special reputation to uphold in the yearbook field, was called in to cut the mustard.

The Keller-produced book had a look: "THE LOOK OF THE BOOK." The new annual had individual identity, character, and class. It was splendiculous compared to the wipe-outs produced for Random by the previous osteocephalic publishers.

Actually, Keller craves the opportunity to have a hand in producing the posher, more elegantly stylized books. We get a charge out of doing annuals with soul and substance. That's because from Norfolk to Minneapolis, Keller is known as the House of Contemporary Creativity.

The Wm. J. Keller firm brings together the grooviest contingent of highly trained craftsmen, beautilitarians, and hypo benders. Our preference is to use the finest papers and superlative inks. Production is by the Velvatone process, which Keller perfected especially for printing yearbooks.

A unique service plan is customized to individual schools, and the most conscientious gentlemen of the road in the business are available to aid our yearbook staffs, should problems arise. If needed, hocus-focus artists can be provided by Keller to tackle some available-light photographic assignments.

The end product of this potpourri of service and talent is a superior, polished yearbook. It is an annual in which the staff, the school, and, above all, the student body can take justifiable pride because of its CONTEMPORARY CREATIVITY.

Incidentally, Random College told Ad Hoc U. about Keller, and both staffs had smooth sailing ever after. The Keller knight in your area is J. Joseph Donovan, phone 256-7625.
